

SPEAKER'S BIOGRAPHY

Rainer G. Hanselmann (Germany)

Born 10 September 1963 in Ingelheim, Germany

Married with Dr. med. Frédérique Hanselmann

One daughter

Education

1970 to 1974	Primary school in Heidesheim
1974 to 1983	Odenwaldschule Ober-Hambach
1983	Abitur and certification of proficiency as chemical technician
1983 to 1984	Military service
1985 to 1991	Study human medicine in Heidelberg, Frankfurt und Homburg/Saar

1992 to 1993	Assistant at the orthopaedic Department University Hospital Homburg
1993	Promotion (Dr. med.): Significant improvement of global myocardial function after 6 hours preservation by control of initial reperfusion
1993 to 1998	Medical doctor and scientist at the Department of Trauma-, Hand-, and Reconstructive Surgery Homburg/Saar Scientific focus: molecular biology of wound healing, sarcoma and rheumatic disease
1998 to 2001	Head of scientific group of analytical Nanobiotechnology at the Department for Experimental Physics, University of Saarland
2001 to 2002	Chief Technology Officer of Luxgene S.A.
Since 2002	Managing Director of sarastro GmbH

Further activities

Chairman of the NanoBioNet e.V. (Foundation)

Member of the Governmental Board of the Centre of Excellence Nano2life (EU-Initiative)