

SPEAKER'S BIOGRAPHY

Rita Nøstdal (Germany)

Senior project manager and researcher at Fraunhofer Institut für Arbeitswirtschaft und Organisation (IAO), Stuttgart.

Rita Nøstdal (born in 1967) studied Business Administration at university St. Gallen, Switzerland.

Mrs. Nøstdal is senior project manager and researcher the department of Performance Management at Fraunhofer IAO. As responsible project manager for international and German research and consulting projects in the areas of organization, performance management, controlling, technology and project management she has executed numerous projects for customers from IT, telecommunication, health insurance, automotive, manufacturing and space.

Prior to being engaged at Fraunhofer in 1993 she was a business analyst at Hewlett-Packard in Switzerland with responsibilities for international projects and ISO 9001 certification.

Rita Nøstdal is lecturing Management Information Systems at the University of Stuttgart. She acts as independent expert and reviewer for the European Commission. She is author and coauthor of numerous publications and speaker at various conferences. She was 6 years in the jury for the Best practice Award Performance Management.