

SPEAKER'S BIOGRAPHY

David Williams (United Kingdom)

Dr David Williams took up appointment as Director General of the British National Space Centre (BNSC) on 1 May 2006 for a four-year term.

BNSC was established in 1985 to co-ordinate space policy and programmes. BNSC is a partnership of government departments and research councils that together represent the interests of UK science, commerce, education and industry.

David Williams has been Head of Strategy and International Relations with EUMETSAT since 1996. His previous experience includes working in the UK with BNSC and the Natural Environment Research Council (NERC)